

CTAA Statement of Support for President Biden's Infrastructure Plan

On behalf of the Community Transportation Association of America's (CTAA) more than 1,300 members and affiliates, we applaud President Biden's leadership and his American Jobs Plan that sets forth an infrastructure plan that includes generational investment in our nation's public transportation providers and infrastructure.

Much like the rest of the country, the rural and small city communities CTAA members serve have faced tremendous economic hardship as their surface transportation infrastructure — including transit vehicles and facilities — have fallen increasingly into disrepair and outlived their useful lives. Throughout, CTAA members continue to deliver safe, affordable and equitable transportation options in the face of these infrastructure challenges. President Biden's infrastructure plan proposes to invest $85 billion to assist all forms of public transportation in expanding and modernizing fleets and facilities. This is a long-needed step in addressing the capital and infrastructure crisis in public transportation.

We are looking forward to working in partnership with Congress and the Biden Administration on improving the nation's surface transportation infrastructure, reauthorizing the FAST Act and ensuring that all Americans have access to equitable, quality of life-improving transportation that can best be delivered with modern, efficient public transportation infrastructure.
