The Community Transportation Association of America (CTAA) and its members believe that mobility is a basic human right. From work and education to life-sustaining health care and human services programs to shopping and visiting with family and friends, mobility directly impacts quality of life. CTAA has over 1,200 members that provide critical transportation in rural, small urban, and tribal communities.

CTAA Members are:

- In the business of moving people – efficiently and cost-effectively
- Dedicated to ensuring that all Americans, regardless of age, ability, geography or income, have access to safe, affordable and reliable transportation
- Share innovation, receive training and certification specific to their needs, advance policy and legislative priorities and improve mobility options in their communities

CTAA's priority is our members and the communities and passengers they serve.
